Elsie:

FYI

We will be pulling the LDW rain samplers on Monday.

This will be the last round of sampling until Ecology gets the Beacon Hill Station moved to its new location. This move will take place in March. Since Beacon Hill provides important information regarding background air concentrations, we will need this station back on line before we can resume sampling.

PSCAA also plans to move their Duwamish Station in March.

LDW Rain Sampling Team;

We will retrieve the Round 7 samplers on Monday February 27th. The first site will be the Beacon Hill Station at 0800. Because Ecology and PSCAA will be moving the Beacon Hill and Duwamish Stations in March, this will be the last sampling round until Ecology gets Beacon Hill back on-line in the new location. Therefore, no new samplers will be required for Round 8. "Round 8" will be used as a placeholder for the interim period until sampling can resume at the new Beacon Hill Station. The next round where we will collect samples will be referred to as "Round 9."

Because Ecology and PSCAA will be moving their stations, we will need to pull the concrete blocks (temporarily) from the Beacon Hill and Duwamish Stations.

I will be available by cell phone on Monday if you have any questions (T: (b) (6)).

Dana H. and Tammy - Thanks for adjusting your schedules on such short notice.
